Dear Arcpoint Labs hiring manager,

To be a bit preemptive: Thank you for taking the time to read my cover letter! My name is Ava Fox, I'm a hard working Phlebotomist who is extremely sensitive to patient comfort. I take a great deal of pride in making the experience as painless as possible, and am looking for a position where that is valued. That is why I am excited to be applying for Phlebotomist at ARCpoint Labs!

I trained at the Arizona Medical Training Institute under Dr. Elaine Kozuka and completed my externship requirement at ARCpoint Labs in Scottsdale. I enjoyed my time there, which is why my interest immediately peaked when I saw your location hiring. I live close by, and am available to work full time for at least six months before I plan to attend music school.

You may have noticed a bit of a gap in my resume, and I would love to explain that here. After receiving my ASCP certification, I studied abroad in Spain for a year. There, I focused on learning the language. After that, I was sent home during the COVID outbreak and was unable to pursue Phlebotomy due to quarantine while I finished my degree online. Now that I have my Bachelor's, I am ready to come back to the field. I am confident that my skills have remained, as I am a quick learner and devoted to the wellbeing of my patients.

I hope I have presented myself well, and you have a better idea of how I will fit in your team. Thank you again for your time, and I hope to be hearing back from you soon!

Regards,

Ava
